Message from Niranjan

Dear friends,

I always encourage Indian youth and entrepreneurs to visit China and explore the markets personally. When you visit wholesale markets and industrial expos, you see the real picture of how global trade works.

China is a place where you can learn how technology is applied in manufacturing, logistics, and business systems.

Many news channels focus only on politics and sensational topics because they want TRP. But the real story of China is visible when you travel here and explore the markets yourself.

If you want to understand how modern factories work, how products are developed and how supply chains operate, then visiting China can be a very valuable experience.

First Time Travel to China – Practical Tips

If you are planning your first business trip to China, here are some useful tips.

Flights

There are direct flights from India to China, especially to major business cities.

Important Business Cities

Guangzhou

One of the biggest trading hubs and home to the Canton Fair.

Shenzhen

A global technology center and the best place for electronics sourcing.

Yiwu

The world's largest small commodities wholesale market.

Hotel & Travel Booking

The best platform for booking in China is Trip.com.

You can book:

- Hotels
- Flights
- High-speed train tickets

Where to Stay

Yiwu

Many Indians stay near the Indian street area called Chenbei Lu. Another popular place is Jin Mao Da Sha building, which is close to the wholesale market.

Guangzhou

Most Indian traders stay near Metro Line 5, especially around Taojin or Xiaobei station where Indian restaurants and services are available.

Shenzhen

Staying near Huaqiangbei metro station is ideal for people sourcing electronics.

Living costs in China are not very high if you choose the right area and local restaurants.

New Business Opportunities – Q1 2026

One of the fastest growing product categories right now is Artificial Jewelry.

Demand in the Indian market is increasing rapidly because:

- It is affordable
- Fashion trends change quickly
- Online sales are growing

For traders, trading and e-commerce models are very suitable.

If you want to source artificial jewelry, the best places to visit are:

- Yiwu wholesale market
- Guangzhou jewelry markets

These markets offer huge product variety and competitive prices.

Learning Together, Growing Stronger

My mission is always to create valuable and practical content for you.

Through my videos and social media updates, I try to show:

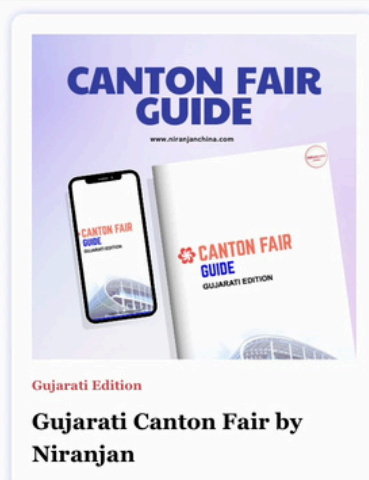

- New technologies coming from China
- New product innovations
- How Chinese factories operate
- How wholesale markets function

If you stay connected with me on social media, you will continue learning about new business opportunities and market trends.

In the future I will also share detailed information about dedicated wholesale markets across China so you can explore new sourcing possibilities.
